

Leonardo Da Vinci

Leonardo was the artist behind the famous painting called “The Last Supper,” he also made many encyclopedias on almost everything.

He was born on April 15th, 1452 and he died on on May 2,1519.

By Rawan

Who Was Leonardo Da Vinci?

I enjoyed this book because it was fun and exciting to read it was also very nicely illustrated and help me image the picture

Who Was Leonardo da Vinci

By Roberta Edwards

Illustrated by True Kelley

I recommend you read this book if you want to learn about the great Leonardo.

Leonardo Da Vinci's Background

Leonardo was born on April 15th, 1452 in a hill town in Italy.

Leonardo was a loner . He did not even have a house of his own for 16 years he distrusted everyone.

Leonardo did not marry, nor have kids. He took care of a poor ten year old boy in Milan Italy. The little boy was almost like family.

He was an apprentice in the Verrocchio's art studio.

His uncle who took care of him for a while and took him to the outside world.

Leonardo Characteristic Traits

Leonardo was very handsome, well-dressed, and very charming.

Leonardo was a very pessimistic person and by his own standards he was a disappointment.

His artistic skills were excellent.

I admire how smart he was. He made many encyclopedias on many different subjects.

The picture on the right is the famous painting called “Mona Lisa” .

Leonardo's Major Accomplishments

Everything that Leonardo did was a work of art. I most admire his painting called “The feast of paradise” it took him a long time to make this and was one of his greatest paintings. He also created “The Last Supper”,and “ Young Girl with Ermine” he was dedicated to his art.

Comparisons

Both Leonardo and I are artists.
We also like creating music

In Leonardo's art style is more realistic and mine is more cartoonish. Leonardo seems to travel a lot while I do not.

Conclusion

*Art is never finished, only abandoned.-
Leonardo da Vinci*

Thanks For Listening. Questions?