

Super Hero Story

By Stella

"Breathe just relax," I thought.

The laboratory was in flames. It was burning down, piece by piece. I rushed down the stairs. Smoke was swirling in the air, intoxicating people's lungs. My mom had to pick me up at 12 a.m. I was in major trouble. She had no idea I was taking secret classes for an experiment. I found a lab that looked like it had been broken down and abandoned. Techince put me into professional training to find and defeat Quake Queen. She was trying to ruin people's lives. I was the only person that could truly defeat her, they said it was fate. The company, Techince, had a terrible outcome with her. I discovered where she was and took her down. Okay, let me take it back so I can explain how I got myself into the situation. First off, who am I?

Hi, I'm T.K. and I'll tell you how, when, what, and why I got my powers. One day I found a destroyed laboratory on the side of an abandoned street. I went in to investigate, like a spy on a top secret mission. I saw a worker that was in a big white coat with goggles. I asked what her deal was and why she was working in a broken laboratory. The young woman explained that they were "undercover". They were undercover because this wicked woman betrayed the company and the people who worked for it. They asked me if I would be allowed, and if I would be willing, to be one of their experiments. As any tween or teenager would, I agreed.

The powers that I gained were to be able to move things with my mind and hands without touching them, also known as telekinesis and kinetic powers. I can hear what people say inside their minds, or as some people call it, telepathy. If someone is thinking of something, I can talk to them without saying a word. When I received my super abilities, it was almost like a gateway. It kind of hit me like a wave. I was very interested, and I was ready to take control of the evil. I had to learn to be calm and slow down. I had to realize what I was doing and what I was taking on. I could not let anger, fear, love, or anything make more problems. Like every superhero, I have a weakness. It's a boundary, a limit to what I can take on. I can only lift so much with my mind. I can only talk to so many people and put so many things in people's minds at once.

You are probably wondering why my name is T.K. It stands for Telesthesia Kinematic. Why am I named this? I have telepathy, telekinesis, and kinetic powers. My super hero outfit is a blue cotton jumpsuit, and it has a yellow TK, overlapped T on top of the K. The TK is my logo and it is layed on my chest in the outfit. The head doctor, Michel, help me design it. My two best friends are Jasmine and Lindsay. They don't have any superpowers, but Jasmine is really funny and Lindsay is extremely bubbly. Quake Queen, my biggest enemy, is filled with wickedness. My plan was to take her down.

Quake Queen took over my life and this is how. First, Quake Queen had a red and yellow outfit. It had various patterns scattered on it. She was trying to demolish people's lives with her telepathy tricks, putting horrible things into people's creative minds, giving everyone depression, anxiety, and fear. I needed to fight her by putting great things in people's minds. I was going to find her and fix all of the harm she had done. Here's how I did it.

I was going to take Quake Queen down. I snuck into her office where she did most of her work. I used my telekinesis to open the door. As I slowly walked toward the door, I turned the handle.

"Breathe," I thought.

My stomach was in a knot. What if I turned to the dark side? An experiment gone wrong? Just like her. I got the door open and she wasn't there. I hid when I heard high heels clicking down the hallway. As she sat at her desk, I was quaking in a cabinet. I started to talk to her about liking me and how I wanted to make things better. I started to transmit things to Quake Queen's head.

"What is going on?" Quake said.

My friends, Jasmine and Lindsay, were outside on the balcony. They were ready to come in and make papers and everything soar across the room to distract her. Both of them came in with a ruckus. Quake got scared by their trespassing. I jumped into action. We fought until I was weak. I pushed as much as I could. She headed for my friends. At this point it was all or nothing. I leapt in between her, Jasmine, and Lindsay. I gave it my all pushing back the bad.

"AAHHHH," I screamed.

Quake Queen dropped to the hardwood floor. I knew she wasn't dead and I didn't want her to be. All I wanted was for her to be unconscious until the police got there. We got her and now she is in prison for life. She will be executed in jail. What happened to the rest of the town?

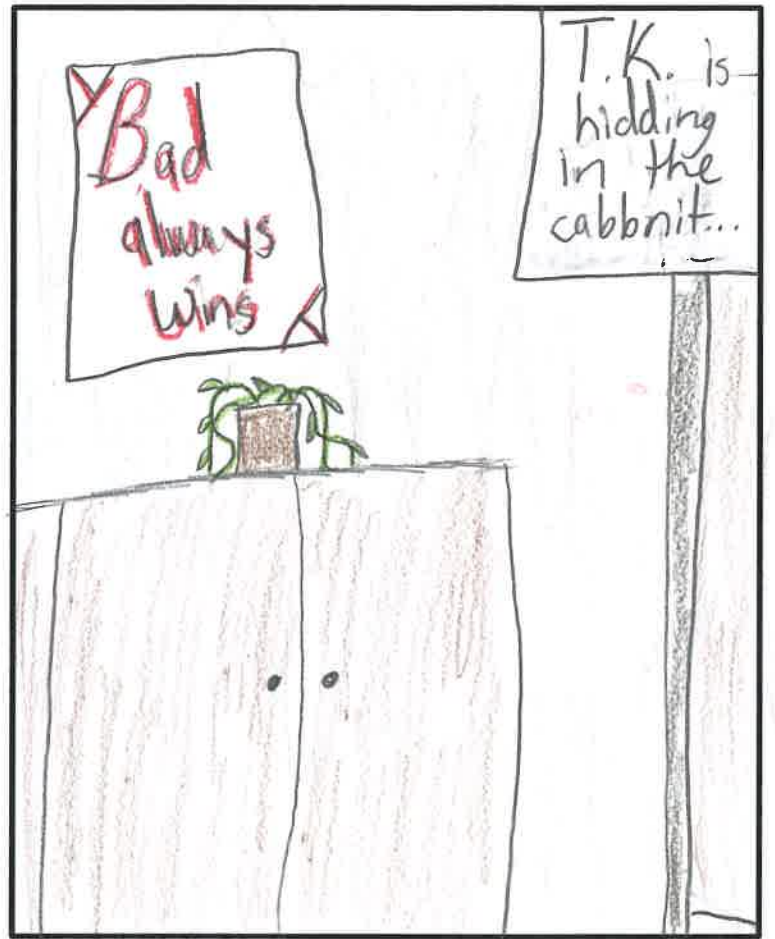

What will happen now? Quake Queen was dragged to jail, now she is just waiting for death row. Her head quarters and office were a mess because of all the papers flying everywhere. People were miserable from all the torture Quake Queen had put them through. I went to the people and put good memories in their minds. Slowly, people got happier and happier. Me and my friends were in private school now because there were too many autographs at our old school. Everyone was applying for my school. Only about six kids actually got in. I guess that I'm pretty famous. People were thankful I took away all of the horrible things and thoughts from them. Everything was back to normal with my family. I did not have to sneak off and go to that lab. Instead, they would take me there for training. That was it.

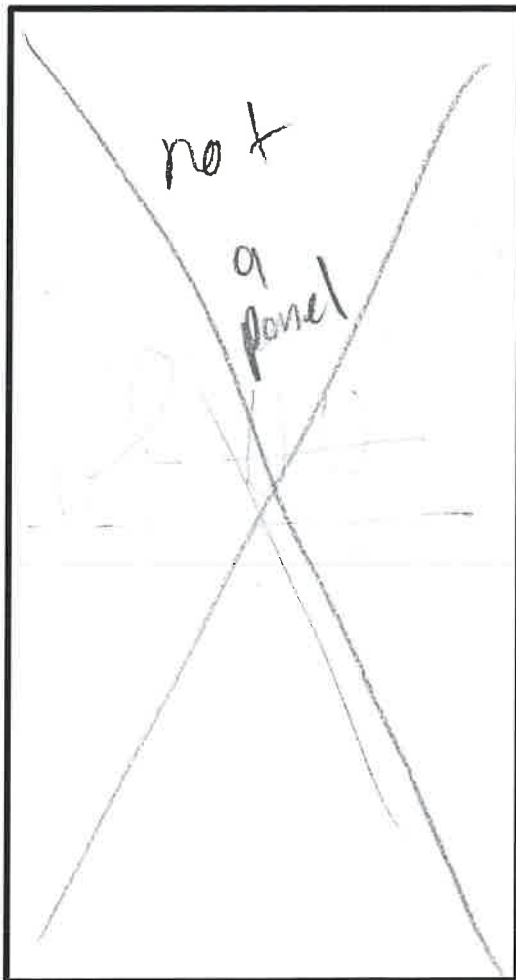

I defeated Quake Queen and now people aren't sad from the thoughts that she gave them. We are all back to normal! I learned that being nice to people is really what you should do. Don't ruin people's lives with your feelings. You can still talk about your feelings though. Imagine if everyone could just be nice and how good life would be. Imagine if there was no harm in the world that was trying to destroy everything.

The Steel Titan

Mike

There I was, on top of the building. The alien liquid from space called agent 1284 pro was preparing the bomb on top of tallest building which is called Tower Tall, a business building. The liquid that came from space is trying to destroy the world and remake it.

“Your never going to win boy” said the alien.

The alien shot something out of his hand and wrapped around me. He grew an arm out of his back and grabbed my neck.

“You little boy.”

It pulled my mask off and lifted me into the air off of the building over the crowded, noisy street.

“You were born alone, You live alone, and You will die alone.”

As I was there hanging over the building, I remember nobody could stop him and nobody came to help me. I had to stop him, The Steel Titan had to stop him. As I saw somebody was running to us, I remember were it all started, on the day I was at the hospital.

The day I got my powers changed my life forever. I got my powers when I was at the hospital were my dad got really ill and was in the hospital bed for about a week then. I saw a doctor running down the empty hall. Nobody was there to witness anything and that was when I knew I was in danger. He then started to run at me. I got scared and really nervous. My legs felt like jelly. The doctor bumped into me and injected a needle in me. The needle had radioactive gama that changed all my blood cells and how my body appeared. It felt like I was losing blood. After a minute, I blacked out . When I was out, I felt something cold something weird, something painful that was indescribable. When I woke up, I was at home in my unmade bed. It felt really strange about what happened. I had felt stronger, faster, and healthier. I felt like a god! I found out. I figured out that I had super strength because when I was at the gym, I could lift over 300 pounds! I had also gained the best reflexes In the world. I felt like I was the best man in the world. I was going to tell everyone. But even though I have superpowers, I can still hurt people. When I was walking around downtown, I felt that someone was heading at me. I felt it get closer. I felt a presents that seem weird. I thought it was going to attack me. The first thing that I did was to grab his hand and punch him in the nose. I realized that it was an old man. Everyone around me was staring at me. I had to leave and never come back to the public. Everyone stared spreading rumors that I beat up people. I became scared of myself and hid from everyone and didn't talk to people for a whole 3 weeks. Some people became worried for me. I decided that I should control my powers. So, One day, I went out to my backyard and tried to control my powers. It took me a whole month for me to control my powers and figure out how to use them at the correct time. I went back to school and some people want to know what happened and others hated me. In october, I created gadgets for me to use and became a superhero I dreamed to be. On a school trip about radioactive stuff, I felt my blood draining again. I decided to stay away from that stuff. I figured out that that was my weakness. I became the Steel Titan! I made a custom that was completely black with a zipper down the front. I have a black mask that covers my head with wide eyes. There's lights in my suit that makes it glow neon red. But I needed to tell someone, anyone. So I told my best friend Yen, and he said that he would help me out with the superhero stuff. Though as soon is figured out how to be a superhero, little did I know, I had to face a liquid substance from space.

"Bozz" the captain said in a strange way

"What" the boss said in an unfriendly way

"We found a planet to live on.

"What is it called" Said the captain

"E 164- 790275-6573-"

"Just say it the planet you cornchip head!" said the Boss.

"It's Earth" said the captain.

"Hmmm", The boss said,"Send liquid substance 1284-agent pro"

"On it sir" said the captain.

The substance was completely black that can shape shift and can form things out of its body. Every day it eats remains of living things. It was captured and brainwashed when it was young. It was their best agent on the job and would always succeed in training and missions.

"Alright agent 1284," said the captain, "It's time for your greatest mission. Go to earth and take over the city with the least powerful people. Go to, um"

"64.8378 N, 147.7164 W (Fairbanks Alaska) and blow up the entire city." said the boss, "And if you succeed, Then you will be second in command in operation 275935-7592548-74936494513 bob."

"Grrrrrrrr Sure thing boss." said the alien

"Fairbanks has no super heros or some nonsense." the boss said. The substance was shot out of the ship in a zippy and went to earth. Now you know where it came from, lets head back where I was.

BOOM. A big blast happened and the whole city shook. I stood up on a building and saw smoke.

"Welp," I said to myself out loud, "It's time for my first day on the job."

I pulled on my mask and called Yen. I told him to look in the area. He said a cage was there and some weird substance that had no info. I told him that I was heading there. I was at the bottom of the building. It looked like it was fine so I used my grapple and swung up.

"Help, help, were stuck down here and we can't get out!" said a women.

I went over and saw on the 10th floor and ran over there to help

"Ummm Ok," I said, "I'm going to lift up the rock and I want you to get out of here and call the police."

I lifted up the rock and they ran away. I threw up the rocks and went through them. I went to the top and I saw it. The alain substance. It was setting up a bomb.

"A, You", I said, "What are you doing?"

"Grrrrrrrrrrrr" It said

It took a piece of the building and through it at me. I dodged it immediately and got in the air. I swung in and pinned him down to the ground.

“Who are you working for?”

It grabbed me and through me off of it. I rolled over and tried to think of a plan.

“HmMMM” I said to myself in my head, “I need to figure out what to do. What can I use to injure it enough and make it talk”

I took my phone and called Yen. The substance grew out two arms out of it's back and charged at me. I stepped aside and jumped on its back and bashed his head with my hands hold together.

“Hey Yen!” I said ,” try finding info about this alien from space”

“ Ok, but I'm going to need to find out whats its called.

“Ummmm,” I said, “ It's called 128Foouuu-”

It grabbed my leg and swung me around like a club.

“4 agent something. I couldn't get the last part ,sorry” I said

“ Ok I'll tell yo-”

The alien throw me down on the ground and broke my phone.

The creature formed a hammer out of its arm and started pounding on me.

“AAAAAAHHHHH”

It kept pounding me and threw me to the other side of the building's ledge.

“You will never win boy” It said

The alien shot something out of his hand. He grew out an arm and grabbed my neck.

“You little boy”

It pulled my mask off.

“You were born alone, You live alone, and you will DIE alone”

I saw a figure running towards me with a machete and an axe.

“ That's the thing,” I said, “I'm not alone.”

A plastic sword went through the alien and a plastic axe went into its shoulder.

“AAAAAAHHHHH” It screamed.

“ Yen!” I said, “Is that plastic?”

"Yep! I hacked into their spaceship thing flying around earth and found out that its weak to plastic!" Yen said.

"Yen, you need to get out of here right now"

I took Yen and swung down to the bottom of the building and swung up to the top again.

"URHG" It said," Thats it, I kill you now."

I used one of my gadgets to tied him up. I went to the bomb as fast as I could and had a "great" Idea to use the bomb to paralyze it. I went back to the top and I through the bomb at it.

"Eat this!" I said.

BOOM! The alien blew up and the building shattered. I saw some of it went on my feet but I couldn't study it with my eye before it went all white. All the glass was gone. The building started to crumble. I fell through the floors one by one until The building was gone and I was still falling. I had blacked out when I hit the ground hard. When I woke up I saw nothing and could barely breathe. Ruble was everywhere and no one was in sight. That was the biggest relief A big chunk of the building was on my stomach. I throw it off me and I looked up to the dusty sky. I saw a black moving figure that was sucking up the alien's body. I tried to get up to follow it but I was out of grapples and could barely stand up. My whole leg was sprained. It felt like walking on legos. The figure was gone. I heard distance cheering. I got up, picked up my dusty mask and tried to see what was happening. I heard people saying something

I could see them but they with their bright red blood. I thought that they were angry with me but when I heard cheering, I knew that I was wrong.

"Who are you?" one man said

"I'm your protector, The Steel Titan."

Lucky everyone was safe and fine well, nobody was killed but people were severely hurt. Mently and physically. The building was destroyed but people started to get to work fast. I was role models for everyone. People looked up at me. They stared a holiday for the day aliens came and I defeated him called Titan day. Now i'm just a superhero saving the city 10

7. I never told my secret identity to anyone except for people I trusted. Everyone loved and praised me and I learned me lesson.

When I hopped on my bed looking out the window at Tower Tall, I thought to myself what happened in the past few weeks. I thought to myself "I got my superpowers from a crazy doctor and learned how to make friends with them. Aliens from space attacked Fairbanks and I stopped them. I learned If there's something wrong, You should be the one to do something. It takes a true hero to do something right without a reward" Imagine if people were making a difference to themselves. Good or bad. How will the world chang and how would people acted woah! whats going on, this is on the next level

welp, I guess it's time for my first day on the job

Super Hero Story

By Tyson

As I was walking home from soccer practice, a bright light streamed through the sky and landed right in front of me. Then there was a misty fog and a silhouette of a man slowly stood up. Everything about him seemed dark, his whole figure and even his face, like he was wielding the power of darkness itself. This villain didn't have a single shadow as you and I have. He seemed to actually be the shadow and he moved with a smooth glide. This shadow man had no definition to his face at all. He obviously arrived on a meteorite that crash landed here on Earth. He emerged from the mist and I tried to hide myself but it was too late. I realized in this moment, as the hair on my arms stood up, this dark being was not here in peace. This shadow man was here to push light out of this world and create pure darkness. I'm the only person on this planet, with maybe a little help of my best friend, that can stop the shadow man because we have powers. My superhero name is Light Bender. I plan to send this dark creature back to the void to protect our planet so it will never come back

Since I was a baby, I've always had light around me. As I've grown older, I've learned that I can actually bend light. It really goes against the law of physics which is super cool. I also have the power to turn invisible and have the ability to put up a force field. As far as I know, my best friend, Shock, and I are the only ones with powers. The only weakness I am aware of is that my powers are limited but Shock is making a suit to help me use them longer. The two of us were born on the same night in a small hospital 11 years ago. That night there was a really intense storm and the power went out in the building. Not sure exactly how the magic of getting powers really worked but Shock was born with the ability to pulse an electrical current and send out a shock from his hands. We've been inseparable since we were born. Over the recent years we've learned how to control our powers with help from each other. He's the one that noticed I was suddenly invisible right in front of his eyes, one day. It was pretty crazy. His eyes got so big and he starting hollering and laughing. It was in his backyard when we were playing with his dog, Max. We would take turns throwing his toy as far as possible and then hide from Max so he would have to find us when he came back after fetching his toy. I didn't even realize that I would turn invisible because I was wishing myself to be in the moment. That was a fun day. Shock and I figured out some tricks using our powers so that if the day ever came where we actually needed to use them, we would be prepared.

I wear a suit that is designed to disappear with me. It's a blue super suit with the letters LB in the middle, which stands for light bender. That is my favorite power to use. I think it's because people seem happier in general when there's more light around. The dark has a way of bringing the mood down a little. This is a day that really proves that point. Once this shadow figure had arrived, the people of the city seemed to go into hiding or something. The streets were dead with no activity like normal.

"Hey Shock, I think we better deal with this shadow figure before things get worse here."

"I agree, I think today is a good day to put our powers to the test. Let's do this!" I said.

Shadow man came to earth with a mission to make it habitable for others his kind. His mission is to destroy all light because the shadow people are healthiest where there is no light. Clearly this is a problem for humans because we need light for all sorts of reasons. Darkness has a way of instilling fear in people and our imaginations can run away, causing panic. I know that I must confront shadow man.

"I sure hope this plan of ours works." I said to Shock.

"I'm sure it will. And I don't believe Shadow man has a chance after we get done with him." said Shock.

After a while of thinking about how to deal with Shadow man, I knew we had to go and find him. Shock and I went searching for him and it didn't take long when we saw the darkness. We tracked the path of darkness and could sense his closeness.

"Shock, you go to the right down that street, I'll go to the left and we'll meet on the other side of that fire station down the road." I suggested.

"Ya, ok". But don't forget about our back up plan if this doesn't work out." Shock reminded me before we split up.

It took a lot of courage because this was our first superhero job. Every time I heard a sound, I would pulse a bit brighter. My thoughts went to our first plan which involves getting Shadowman in the exact right location. I could see Shock between the buildings as we pressed forward. He gave me a signal showing that he saw something in the entrance of an ice cream shop.

"Well this is a convenient location! I'll have to come back for some ice cream after I've completed this mission" I whispered to myself. "Moose tracks in a sugar cone."

All the sudden I saw three shadow man copies running at me and I had to shake myself back to the mission at hand. One of the three figures dove at me I put up my force field and it bounced off.

Shock saw what happened and sprinted towards me through the ice cream shop from the back door.

"Shock, did you see that? The shadow can multiply!" I exclaimed.

"I did. We're going to have to figure out which one is the original so we can focus on that one." he replied.

"This is going to be challenging!" I exclaimed. Half the town was now dark and and I knew we had to stop him fast before all light would be gone forever.

The shadows were growing down through the streets where we stood. Shock and I started running after it. As we neared the end of the darkness, shadowman turned his attention towards us and made himself tall and split into four copies of himself this time. I turned invisible so Shadow man couldn't see me. Once I had sight of what I thought was the real shadow man, I yelled “Hey shadowman! Come and get me you big bully!”

He turned my direction once again and brought the shadows with him as he sped up the street at a really fast speed. In the corner of my eye, I saw some people running out of a building and down the street. It caught shadow man's attention and for a split second, his copies joined into one. Shock noticed as well and we didn't take our eyes off him.

“This is our chance, Shock. Let's do this!” I positioned myself between the people and the shadow. I tried as hard as I could to make myself as bright as possible. Then, just as shadowman lunged at me again I turned invisible and dodged his original figure. Shadow man fell right into our trap, I reappeared the same time Shock pulsed an electric bolt towards shadow man, which stunned him momentarily. I looked over and saw Shock pull a lever and the cage dropped over Shadow man from a crane and as it hit the ground I made a force field around the cage to make sure he wasn't getting out. Our tricks and plan worked brilliantly, just as we had hoped.

Not only did our first plan workout, but we didn't even have to start the second stage of our plan because as the people of the city gathered around shadowman's containment, he literally just disappeared. I didn't realize it at the moment but my light had become so bright as the people cheered for me, that it also completely overtook all the darkness that Shadow man had created over the last few days.

“Hey Light Bender, you saved our homes and our city!” Called out a shop clerk.

“Light Bender, your lightness is super valuable and we will always need you.” Added a man from a taxi cab.

More and more people came out from hiding and a black SUV pulled up and the mayor himself stepped out and declared to the city people,

"We will always be grateful to Light Bender and his friend, Shock. Their powers are always welcome here."

Our city had its light back and everyone celebrated in the streets with music, dancing and food.

"Hey Shock, you think Shadow man will ever try to come back again?" I asked.

"I don't think he can. I bet he'll be gone for good." Shock replied.

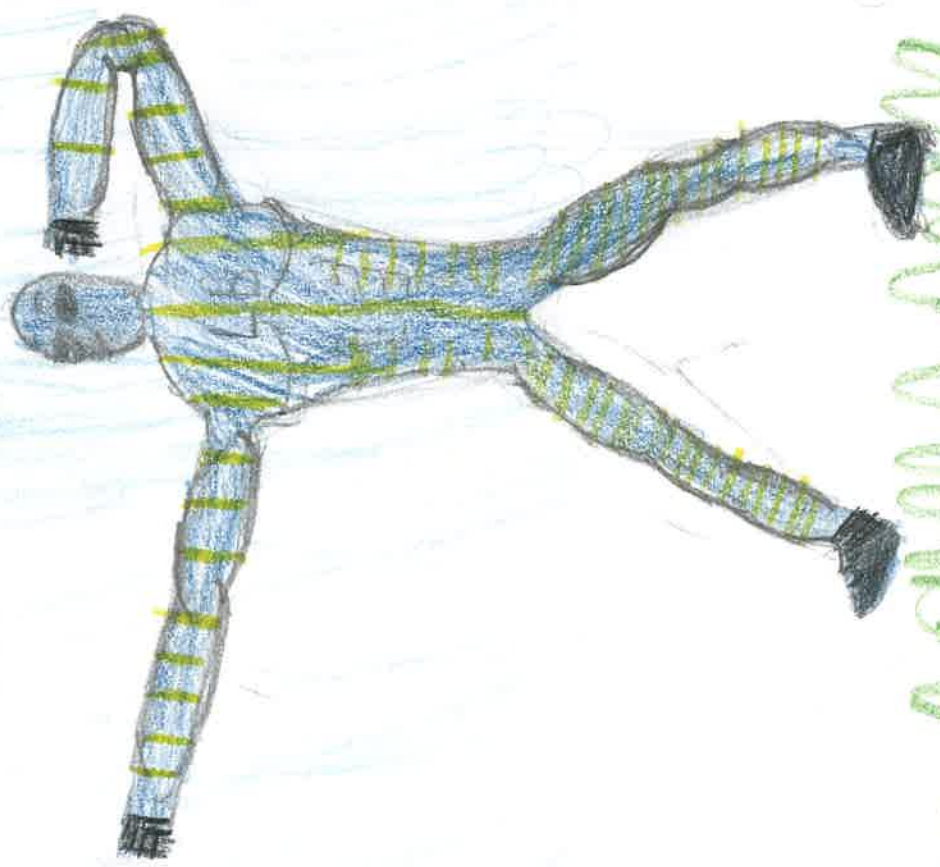

"There's one thing that's been on my mind that I just can't shake for a while now."

"What's that?" Asked Shock.

"I really want some moose tracks ice cream!" I laughed
I was finally happy. Everybody was happy! The darkness was gone and Earth was safe now. I grew stronger with my powers this day and was able to help more people in more places. I am pretty sure that Shadow man went back to his people to a different plane with no life and darkened that planet. Shadow man did not cause damage to Earth, all he did was darken it and I fixed that with the help of my friend Shock.

In this story there was a battle and people got scared but my friend Shock and I were there to stop the menace and we did. Once the evil was destroyed everybody was happy. I learned that good could defeat any kind of evil because evil does not have friends to support them anywhere they go like Shock did with me. Imagine if everybody wanted piece, there would be no more wars and everybody could be friends.

“The Magical Artist”

Addison

I never thought that I would ever be a hero, but since the night of November 6, 2019, my life has never been the same. As I walked down the street, rain dripped onto my sweatshirt. I looked up into the sky only to see gray. As I walk down the street, I hear a snap, then footsteps. I look behind my shoulder. Nothing. The footsteps continued, louder than before. I frantically look around. I continue my walk down the street, but more cautiously. I sit down on a rock and I take out my sketch book from my bag. I start to sketch myself as a hero. I wrote at the top of the page, ‘Sketch’, my superhero name, if I was one. Beside me, in the drawing, is a creature that I call a Maligryder. The Maligryder’s name is Roven, she is my ally. As I draw more of the drawing, it feels more and more real. After an hour of drawing, fog appears. I look up to see thick, dense smog. I slowly look back at the paper. My drawing wasn’t there! I quickly flip through all the pages. All of my drawings were gone! Confusion swept over me. How is this possible? I thought. I stand up only to sit down again. Darkness clouded my vision, and I fall asleep.

I wake up only to see wood and smoke. I sat up and felt a sharp stab of pain by the left hip. Where am I? I thought.

“Hello,” A voice said.

“Who are you?” I croaked.

“My name is Kren,” The figure said. “Be grateful I saved your life, Sketch.”

I hesitated. “Wait, Sketch? My name isn’t Sketch. Wait,” I stopped and started to think. “My superhero name is Sketch. But I’m not a superhero. Am I?” I gazed up into the orange eyes of the figure above me.

“You haven’t heard the rumor yet, have you Sketch?” She stared at me with her sunset like eyes.

"What rumor? About who? Kren, I'm just me, Addison, a normal human being like everybody else on Earth,"

"Well, not everybody else. You, are now a superhero, Sketch," she said.

"How Kren? How!" I yelled. I stared up at Kren. Kren was gone. I looked around the small room. I walked out the door and the first thing I saw was a weird creature that looked similar to Roven the Maligryder. I froze. The creature looked in my direction, snorted and pruned itself. I walked closer and realized that the creature was Roven. How? I asked myself. I stood right next to Rovens snout. I slowly lifted up my arm and softly petted the black, blue and white feathery pelt.

"You're, actually real?" I asked the creature. SNORT! I looked at the creature and I saw her, or him, look behind herself, snorted, and dashed into a nearby cave. As I saw her tail disappear into the dank space, I saw a smoke cloud form above me. I look into the direction of the smoke and frowned. Those campers are going to start a fire! I started to walk closer to the smoke but Roven dashed out of the cave and stop in front of me. Must be dangerous. I thought. But why?

I sat down on a stump outside of the weird little cabin and started to draw Roven. I hope this doesn't disappear too. I thought. I looked up at Roven to draw the little details I never drew. Once I was done drawing, I looked up again and Roven had laid by my feet, asleep. Roven did look really tired. Poor Roven. I thought. As I looked around again I heard something, like, like a rock being scraped. Roven immediately stood up growling in a way. I didn't know what to do, I just let Roven protect me. The scraping stopped and Roven turned and looked at me. Roven looked scared. I didn't know what to do. She just looked at me and turned away. Then I realized that Roven was trying to show me somewhere. So, I followed her. Where is she going? Roven stopped and pruned herself. I looked ahead and saw a figure coming toward us.

"Hello there, why are you in the Forest?" A raspy voice said.

"Who are you?" I said. GRUNT! "Shh..." I stroked Rovens muzzle.

"It's just me, Kren," The voice said again.

“Krens voice is NOT raspy. And Kren is a girl. You have a low voice, like a man. Who are you really?”

“You figured that out quick. The names Siren, but you can call me Trickster. You, my friend, must be Sketch. The ‘magical artist’, so the town folks say,” Siren grinned.

“I don’t know who you are but, mind your own business, ‘Siren’,”

“Oh, I forgot,” He rasped. “Here, it’s a little ‘welcome gift,’”

“Why would I need a welcome gift? We just met. Also, one quick reminder, I’M NOT SKETCH!” I snapped.

“Very well, say what you want, Sketch!” He mocked. I hate that guy, I don’t even know why everybody thinks im Sketch. I’m just me. I mused. I wonder what’s in the box. Once he had left, Roven continued to show me somewhere. Roven had led me to a meadow, a beautiful meadow.

“Where are we?” I asked the creature. I knew she wouldn’t respond, but I asked her anyway. I saw deer, rabbits, cows, elk, I even saw a wolf pass by!

“Wow,” I said stroking Rovens muzzle. I sat on the soft, green grass with Roven laying beside me. Roven nudged my sketch book, then pointed at the meadow with her beak.

“Oh, you want me to draw the meadow?” I stroked Roven. I took out my sketch book and started to draw the meadow. Roven had fallen asleep next to me while I was drawing. I realized that Roven had curled herself around me. I layed back once I was done drawing the meadow. I wonder if Roven and I could build our own cabin in this meadow. I reflected with a smile on my face. Then an idea popped into my head. What if I drew my super hero suit. Would it disappear? Or will it become 3D like Roven. The second I had the idea, I started sketching the blue-ish green suit like I saw in Rovens eyes, but of course I added my own details. Once I was done, It was perfect. I brushed my hand across it and it actually became 3D! Wow, I mused.

“Do you think that it will fit me?” I asked Roven. The creature just nudged a rock. As I layed out the suit, I realized that the letter S was printed in the center of the suit. Like Sketch. As I looked at it once more I thought about all the memories I would have with this suit. I beamed at the sight of it.

"I'm going to put it on, Roven, guard my sketchbook alright?" I asked Roven. SNORT. "Thanks," As I got into my suit, I saw Roven staring at my sketchbook making sure that it wouldn't get stolen. Cute, Roven is just staring at my sketch book, so cute! And funny. I giggled. The inside of this suit is so soft! I thought excitedly. After I got into my suit all the way, I called Roven over.

"Roven! Come look!" I called. I saw Roven walk over with my sketchbook in her mouth and grunted. As I told her all the great things that we could do now since I had my suit now and that I have gotten the hang of my powers. While we were talking a one way conversation, I saw an arrow wizz past my face. Roven immediately went in front of me.

"Who's there?" I asked the shadows. "Show yourself!"

"I'm not sure you would care," A familiar voice said, stepping out of the shadows. "But, I'm afraid your little protector has to go," She grinned.

"No! Don't hurt Roven!" I pleaded.

"That thing has a name?" Kren sighed. "You're weak Addison. You'll never be like me,"

"Like I ever wanted to," I snapped. Kren looked at me with burning eyes full of rage.

"I thought you trusted me," She said grimly.

"Ha! Like I ever did at the start," I snapped back. After a moment of staring I said, "I never expected you to be the bad guy Kren,"

"Bad guy? Like in books?" She teased. I opened my mouth but nothing came out.

"Scared?"

"No," I muttered.

"What was that you said? No?" She said.

"Just- just go away, please," I pleaded.

“Please? Please? HA! You’re so stupid,” After Kren said that Roven freaked out and charged at Kren. I didn’t care what Roven was going to do. I needed Kren to be gone.

“Roven! C’mon, lets go,” I said.

“Where, Sketch?” Kren grinned grimmlessly. I didn’t bother to respond, I just kept walking. I mounted Roven and said, “Roven, can you fly?” SNORT! “I’m assuming that’s a yes,” Roven bolted into a sprint, spread out her giant wings, and flew.

As I watched Kren fade away, I noticed that Kren disappeared into a wisp of smoke. What happened? Did she just teleport?! I thought confused. All of a sudden Roven stopped in air and hovered.

“What’s wrong girl?” I asked. No answer, not even a grunt.

“..Roven?” then I saw it, what Roven had stopped for.

“Kren?”

“That’s right! You only saw what I looked like without me using my powers,” I got out my sketchbook and sketched Kren getting eaten by the MEG. This’ll teach her a lesson! And maybe make me laugh. I thought. As I drew it, MEG came from the sky and gulped Kren, and almost Roven and I.

“Ha ha! That’s how i’m going to beat you Kren!” I yelled. I didn’t notice that Kren had cut through MEG. Kren flew up and shoved me off Roven. SQUACK!

“AAAAAAAH!” I screamed. Roven dove down to catch me but Kren got there first. Kren grabbed my leg and hovered.

“You are strong Addison, but not strong enough!” She flong me the sky and Roven caught me.

“Thanks, Roven,” I coughed. SQUACK. “Now, let’s go get Kren,” Roven dove after Kren while I drew Roven and I in a force field. I brushed my hand over the picture and a green force field formed around us. I drew a sword, brushed my hand, and got the sword. Roven flew right past Kren and started to circle her. I jumped off Roven and attacked Kren. I had drawn myself flying a moment before I jumped. I started to hover and swung my sword. Kren had a sword too, and she stopped me from attacking her. I kicked her in the stomach and cut her arm. Kren winced but kept fighting. She's a good fighter. I thought angrily. Roven grabbed Kren with her talons and kept Kren still as I pointed the sword at Kren's throat. I hesitated.

"You're hesitating, why? I thought you wanted to kill me, so why are you hesitating?" She grinned.

"I'm not going to kill you, I'm going to bring you to Iron Heights Prison, where you will stay there for a long time," I said.

"Very well, take me there, if you want to, I would gladly stay here and fight you,"

"I don't fight, I save," I said solemnly. I mounted Roven with Kren sitting behind me, near Rovens rear. We flew to Iron Heights and explained what Kren did to the cops.

"You did well, thank you," One of the cops said. I started to walk away but a different cop asked me, "What do you call yourself?" I looked at Roven and back at the officer.

"Sketch, protector of our city," I learned that only certain people can save certain people's lives, like heros, not me. Imagine if everybody had powers. If everybody was dangerous. If everybody was like Kren. Imagine the world, but different, different from today. Imagine the world with superheroes and supervillains. If everybody was like me, like Blinded Colour, like Canine, like Kren. Imagine the world like that, just imagine...

End!

I wonder If I will be able to go home again... I wonder If my family missed me... I wish I could just go home to them and tell them what I could do... but If I do, they'll become a target...

Epilogue

Roven was walking around while I was testing my powers again. As I drew a cabin in the one meadow Roven showed me, I pictured it the way I always wanted a cabin to look like. Small. Cozy. Safe. It was kind of a big cabin for a cabin, but it was perfect. I brushed my hand on it and, there it was. Our two story cabin.

“C’mon Roven, let’s go look around in it,” I said. Roven got up and we walked toward the cabin. I opened the door and a breeze of air came over us. I walked in and it was empty.

“Oh, I forgot I was going to draw the furniture,” I shrugged. The first thing I drew was a big fluffy bed for Roven and her food dishes. Roven hopped over to her bed and flopped onto it. I laughed. I drew a nice modern kitchen with pots and pans hanging from a metal bar. I drew a nice modern couch and a bench. Roven watched me while I drew and swiped my hand. Once I was done designing both floors, It was time to get more things for Roven, just to make her feel at home. I walked outside and drew a little stone perch with other rocks around it. I drew a pond with fish in it for Roven to catch when she was hungry. Once I was done designing Rovens things, I went on and started with outside furniture. I didn’t do much except for a small fountain, a garden and benches.

“Well hello again Sketch,” An oddly familiar voice said. “I see you’ve decided to make a home in my meadow.” He growled.

“You’re meadow? If it’s your meadow, wouldn’t there be some sort of a landmark? Or a sign saying; Hay, this is my meadow. Back off,” I confessed. SQUACK! He stopped and thought for a second then said, “Well... you’re smart. I never thought of that, ever,” He said blankly.

“Why exactly are you here?” I asked curiously.

“Heh, I’m glad you asked, Addison.”
